

May 1, 2013

Nancy Lorenz: Fine Art and Commissioned Design

Posted by Kevin Sharkey

Although she is known for her beautiful paintings, Nancy Lorenz has gathered a following among architects and collectors eager to commission her large luminous works for interior decoration installations.

Her work embodies an East-meets-West kind of style. Techniques refined from Oriental craftsmanship are partnered with the bold, gestural brushwork of Abstract Expressionism. Lorenz lived in Toyko with her family for 5 years in her teens and became "enamored with Asian crafts" and several degrees later, developed this beautiful style.

Her sense of aesthetic for both design and fine art has become a go-to for Hollywood's elite, such as Cindy Crawford. Her work can also be seen in high-profile places such as the Obama White House, the Chanel flagship store in Paris, and several museums of art around the country.

Lemon Gold Water. Materials: Mother of Pearl, Gold Leaf, and Lacquer on panel. 2011, Lorenz. Photo courtesy of Nancy-Lorenz.com.

King Dining Room, California. 2005, Lorenz. Photo courtesy of Nancy-Lorenz.com.

Geodesic Powder Room, New York City. Materials: Gold Leaf, Mother of Pearl. 2011. Lorenz. Photo courtesy of Nancy-Lorenz.com