What do we say about artwork that offers an opportunity for contemplation and aesthetics? What relevance does it have in this moment? An artist's DNA is set, accordingly, how do we work through this moment in history? Maybe some days we do not paint at all and other days we turn off our newsfeed long enough to create an abstract image.

Color carries emotion; nature inspires; memory guides our hands; beauty is persuasive.

20% of proceeds from sales will be contributed to the American Civil Liberties Union
